Web Development Guide

Process of creating web applications

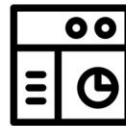

1 Setting Up Goals and Tasks

We work to achieve the client's business requirements and objectives. Therefore, it's critical to establish and prioritize their objectives at the very beginning of the project.

2 UX And UI Design

Once the primary business objectives and user goals have been established, we create a distinctive user experience and carefully plan out every aspect of the interface design. Next, we design each screen (page) individually using a variety of resolutions or types.

3 Backend & Frontend Development

The creation of the essential and distinctive system components, as well as any necessary CMS module adaptations, coding (always with cross-browser testing), and frontend and backend integration.
